

Phaser 3-in-1 Presentation/ Mouse (GME422RW6) Product Protective antimicrobial Nano Coating

Model # GME422RW6

Description

IOGEAR's new Phaser 3-in-1 Presenter/ Mouse with Nano Technology is an excellent tool for medical offices, libraries, and schools as well as for mobile professionals, gamers, and desktop users. No wires mean you've got the freedom to walk around the room during your presentation without being bound to the computer. Compatible with both PCs and Macs, the unit's advanced 27MHz Radio Wave technology allows it to work at any location and from any direction within its 30 feet range. Even nicer, there's no need to point the mouse toward the computer or sensors. The thumb-operated omni-directional cursor control allows the unit to work as a full-functioned mouse, as well as a remote presenter. The built-in laser pointer helps you to direct the audience's attention to where you want it.

IOGEAR's Phaser 3-1 Presenter/ Mouse is coated with a Titanium Dioxide (TiO₂) and Silver (Ag) Nano-particle compound. The coating uses two mechanisms to deactivate enzymes and proteins of bacteria from surviving on the surface of the product. The compound has been tested and proven effective against various bacteria.
